

RAINFALL OVER WEEK END SETS RECORD OF YEAR

Nearly Four and a Half Inches of Water Fell in 36 Hour Period

A record rainfall for the year in Dixon was recorded at the government weather station, at the Schuck & Bates grocery over the week-end. From 5 o'clock Saturday evening until the same hour Sunday, 2.90 inches of water fell. From 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon until 7 o'clock this morning the rainfall measured 1.67, making a total of 4.47 inches for the 36 hour period.

Several heavy downpours accompanied by lightning and thunder occurred Sunday and one of the heaviest rainfalls occurred about 7 o'clock last evening.

Rock river rose rapidly, starting Sunday morning at 2 o'clock and readings at the Illinois Northern Utilities Company hydro plant showed a rise of three feet and four inches from 2 o'clock Sunday morning until 3 o'clock this morning. Since that hour the stage was said to be dropping slowly.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Rain and clouds blanketed most of Illinois today and the same was in store tonight, said C. A. Donnell, government weather forecaster.

The rain of yesterday and last night was general throughout the state except at Cairo, which shared with Chicago the high temperature of 64. Elsewhere the thermometer ranged downward, touching a minimum of 40 in the northern part.

Forecaster Donnell expected rain in the southern part tonight with cloudiness and cooler temperatures throughout, and a probable minimum of 35 in Chicago and 40 in the south.

Almost an inch and a half of rain fell between yesterday morning and 7 A. M. today.

VOTERS OF LEE FAVOR NEW HIGH SCHOOL, 184-10

Voters in the village of Lee, in Willow Creek township, at a special election Saturday voted 184 to 10 in favor of a new high school to be constructed under a federal grant of the Public Works Administration program. A federal grant of $49,000 has been allocated for the purpose of building the new school. The proposal to issue bonds in the sum of $9,500 by Willow Creek township also carried.

A third proposal submitted at the special election, suggested four sites on which the proposed building is to be constructed, three of these being in Lee county and one in DeKalb county. The new property, located in DeKalb county, and the Munson, Coffield and Olson-Eden sites in Lee county were proposed, all receiving divided votes. The selection of a site was not determined at Saturday's election and will be determined later.

EARLY RUSH FOR AUTO LICENSES REPORTED HEAVY

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes said today that approximately 14,000 applications for 1936 auto licenses were received in the first week after the forms were issued.

This number, he said, was much larger than last year's first week total.

The first day after application forms reached the public, he said, the department received 1,000 requests for licenses, and this number increased daily. Today's receipts, four mail sacks full, were estimated at 4,000 applications. Last year, the first day returns were 50 applications with the number each succeeding day during the first week about double the previous day's total.

A number of applications enclosed in their letters checks and money orders based on the old license fees which were $1.50 higher than this year's charge.

Lake Co. Democrats Back County Clerk

Waukegan, Ill., Nov. 4.—(AP)—The Lake County Democratic party, through Frank McDermott, chairman of the county central committee, today stood behind County Clerk Russell H. Alford in his determination to issue no marriage licenses after office hours.

Alford, the first Democrat to be elected clerk in this county, had refused to change his position after a request from Henry F. Wallenstein, Democratic justice of the peace. McDermott, in answer to Wallenstein, said yesterday: "We're back of Alford. He made his position known in the campaign. We feel he is capable of running his office and won't attempt to dictate to him."

"I doubt that the marriage license business as much as the $120.00 annually, which has been claimed," Alford said. "Anyway, money is not the prime issue; the question is one of right and decency."

Embarrassment

Geneva, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The League of Nations found itself embarrassed today by its own sanctions against Italy.

It was to move into its new building Nov. 15, but the interior decorations, which are far from completed, were to have been made of Italian marble.

Under the terms of the "buy-nothing-from-Italy" embargo, the League cannot buy its marble from Italy.

FEMALE PUBLIC ENEMY NO. 1 IS BUDDY'S VICTIM

Vivian Chase is Found Dead in Auto; Killed by Her Consort

Kansas City, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Red-haired Vivian Chase, sharp-featured female public enemy No. 1, is dead—apparent victim of a gunman for whom she carried bullets in her purse.

Police renewed their search for John Langan, fugitive bank robber, after the body of the attractive 34-year-old consort of gangsters was found crammed in a motor car near St. Luke's hospital in a fashionable country club plaza district as church chimes tolled the Sabbath.

Investigators pointed to this chain of circumstances:

The bullet which ripped through the woman's chest downward from the back of the neck was 45 calibre—like 20 others in her handbag—the same as that which Langan fired into a Kansas deputy Sept. 12 in a gunfight in which Langan's wife was killed.

Accompanied Gang
Three nights later, a gang led by a man tentatively identified by the victims as Langan, terrorized two Platte county farmers. A red-headed woman accompanied him and forced the farmers at machine gun point to obtain liquor for them.

Blood on the running board of a "ride" car, a stolen sedan, led a woman passenger to discover the body, jammed between the seats. Beneath her lay her 38 calibre Spanish-type pistol, a $5 bill and a capacious handbag, in which she carried her weapon, 25 bullets which she wrapped in a blue and white handkerchief, and 20 .45 calibre bullets.

Physicians said she had been dead two hours.

Vivian Chase was a suspect in the kidnapping of August Luer, Alton, Ill., and the seventh "accounted for." Five men and a woman are serving prison sentences ranging from five years to life. Only one suspect, Lloyd "Blackie" Doyle, remains at large.

Officers said the Chase woman was an associate of Alvin Karpis, now at the top of the Department of Justice's list of men most wanted.

Fresh weeds caught in the radiator led officers to theorize the woman and her accomplice had parked on a country roadside to divide loot and in a quarrel she was slain before she could jerk her pistol from her purse.

Negro's Insult of a White Woman Punished by Tennessee Men

White Bluff, Tenn., Nov. 4.—(AP)—A Negro listed as Baxter Bell, 35, was killed early today by a group of white men who ridiculed his body with bullets for an alleged insult to a white woman as she alighted from a bus last night.

The killing occurred on a road to Kingston Springs some distance from White Bluff. The negro's body was thrown from the roadside into a thicket.

A short time later Deputy Sheriff Clyde Petty said five white men, appeared at the jail here and surrendered. They told the officer the white woman whom they claimed had been insulted was the wife of one of their number.

"Open Season" on "Rubber Stamp" Congressmen of "Roosevelt and Ruin" Leaning, Fr. Coughlin Plan

Detroit, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The Rev. Father Charles E. Coughlin launched his National Union for Social Justice today upon a new annual program he said would include "an open hunting season on members of congress."

Opening a series of radio addresses yesterday afternoon, Father Coughlin divided his time between a reiteration of the 16 principles on which he founded his national union and an outline of its program for the year, then abruptly turned his attention to the League of Nations with the charge, "that through international banking, 'the stage is being set for our entrance into another world war.'"

Father Coughlin said his organization had no desire to establish a

INDICTMENT OF PRISON KILLER WILL BE ASKED

Stateville Warden Believes He Has Solved Fatal Stabbing

Joliet, Ill., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Warden Joseph Ragen of Stateville prison announced today that he would seek an indictment charging Frank Piazza, convict serving a 14 year term for killing a Chicago policeman, with murdering a fellow convict, William Neill, last Friday.

Neill, who was serving a 30 year sentence for murder, was stabbed three times in the presence of other prisoners, all of whom professed to know nothing of the affair.

Ragen said the knife believed to have been used in the killing was found concealed in the prison gymnasium. Piazza, with another convict, was detailed to janitor work there.

Ragen said he was considering asking an indictment against the other convict on the gymnasium detail, whom he declined to name.

Probable Motive
The warden declined to comment on a possible motive, but a theory that Neill had been slain because he "welshed" on gambling debts was current around the prison.

Piazza, now 21, was convicted April 14, 1933, of slaying Detective James J. Caplis during an attempted holdup Dec. 20, 1931.

Neill was formerly of McLean, Tex., and was sent to prison in May, 1931, for the saloon murder of Fred Sievert at Joliet. He made an alleged confession last year implicating two other men and a theory that he was killed because of his "squealing" activities was under investigation.

Fatally stabbed Neill fell into the arms of Edward Hatfield, convicted burglar, but Hatfield is deaf and was unable to say whether Neill named his assailant before he died.

Investigation of the Neill stabbing, the August 3 escape of the prolate Henry J. (Midget) Fernkes, and other crimes committed by the prison inmates was opened today by a Will county grand jury.

State's Attorney William R. McCabe said the inquiry would be broad in scope. He announced he would summon Warden Ragen, his assistant, George F. Sebring, and two guards dismissed in the Fernkes escape, to testify before the jury on Wednesday.

NEW YORK FIRE BUG SOUGHT AS SLAYER OF SIX

New York, Nov. 4.—(AP)—A new blaze, set in rubbish piles in a Harlem apartment house, was discovered and extinguished today as police searched for a firebug blamed for a tenement house fire which took six lives.

Fire Marshal Thomas Brophy said he believed the new fire had been set by the person responsible for the deaths of Mrs. Marguerita di Donato, 36, and her five children. Their bodies were found in the kitchen of their fourth-floor flat after a fire early yesterday.

From 7 to 15 years old, the children apparently had huddled around their mother and perished with her while Luigi di Donato, 35-year-old relief worker and sole survivor in the family, staggered about East 121st street, too hysterical to tell firemen of their peril.

Meanwhile, fire officials said, the same pyromaniac was firing another Harlem tenement. The second blaze, started in a baby carriage, was quickly extinguished.

ILLINOIS QUOTA FOR WPA LIKELY TO BE AS FIXED

Request for More Men Will Be Denied Ass't. Chief Says Today

Washington, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Aubrey Williams, Assistant to Works Progress Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, said today there was "virtually no chance whatever that the Illinois WPA employment quota of 183,000 would be increased."

Other agencies, Williams said, would have to provide for the remaining 57,000 employables the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission has reported on its rolls.

"The 183,000 persons to be employed in Illinois by November 25," he said, "represents the state's proportional share of the 3,500,000 persons the work's progress administration intends putting to work."

No action has been taken on the state's request for an additional $1,000,000 with which to meet direct relief needs the first half of November.

Ask Million More
The state had asked for $8,459,000 for November aid and was granted $3,000,000 for the first two weeks. In order to prevent a 20 per cent reduction in the amount of relief provided, John C. Martin, chairman of the state's relief commission, requested the additional $1,000,000 for the first two weeks of the month.

Federal relief officials expect, it was said, that the WPA will make the additional grant unnecessary. It was indicated, however, that it would be forthcoming if necessary. "We do not intend to let anyone starve," one high relief official said, "and Illinois will get more money for November if the need is apparent."

No federal funds for Illinois relief in the latter half of November have been promised but it was learned from the same source that they would probably be forthcoming. The amount, however, will depend on what success the Illinois works progress administration has had in putting persons to work.

Dunham Optimistic
Robert J. Dunham, state works progress administrator, has said he will have 100,000 at work by November 15 and the remainder of his 183,500 quota by November 25.

The "other agencies" which Williams said would have to provide for the 57,000 employables WPA is leaving on the relief rolls include, in addition to the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission and the counties, the federal emergency road program and the grade crossing elimination program.

Recently the government granted Illinois in excess of $19,000,000 for these two purposes. Little of this work, which is to be done under the supervision of the Illinois state highway department, has started, according to the latest reports made to the department of Agriculture's bureau of roads. All labor employed on these projects with the exception of technical and supervisory employees must be taken from lists furnished by the federal employment service which, in turn, obtains them from the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission.

Williams also believes that increased industrial activity will result in a number of the 57 employables now left on the emergency relief commission's rolls entering private employment.

Addis Ababa—Emperor Haile Selassie, observing the fifth anniversary of his coronation, said his nation would revive a concession to American Standard Oil interests after peace is concluded.

MILITARY MANEUVERS

On the northern front, 120,000 Italian troops marched on Makale, unresisted.

DICKINSON HAS FIVE POINT PROGRAM FOR FARMS

Mount Vernon, Ia., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Senator Lester Dickinson, Iowa's persistent critic of the AAA, today offered a five-point farm program of his own.

The senator's proposal was his first statement since the farm administration's 6 to 1 victory in the corn-hog pol.

Dickinson outlined the five-point plan in an address before the annual forum conference of Methodist ministers and laymen at Cornell College here.

1. Eliminate contradictions in government policy which seek on one hand to limit crop production and on the other to subsidize vast irrigation and drainage projects.

2. Stabilize production through retirement of marginal land and stimulate diversified farming to obtain a more "balanced" production.

3. Remove artificial controls and bureaucratic regulations and develop cooperative production and marketing.

4. Restore export markets through price-exporting fee based on import tariff duties.

5. Revise taxation to reduce tax burdens on farms and real property.

DARK HORSE MAY BE CHOSEN G.O.P. LEADER IN 1936

Chicago, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Harrison E. Spangler, director of the Republican middle west campaign, predicted in an interview today that the 1926 convention may produce another dark horse candidate like Warren G. Harding, nominated in 1920.

"There are a number of able men in the country who have already received mention as Republican presidential timber," said Spangler. "It may be, however, that the man who will be selected by the convention has not yet received prominent notice."

He did not divulge the reasons for his opinion.

Harding, a newspaper publisher of Marion, O., was named the Republican standard bearer after the convention was deadlocked by delegates pledged to former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois and Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, later governor of the Philippines.

Rogers Memorial Campaign is Open

New York, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The Will Rogers Memorial Commission launched a campaign today on the 56th anniversary of the late comedian's birth for subscriptions "to perpetuate his kindness to mankind."

"Not a shaft of gold marble for this warm friendly man," said Eddie Rickenbacker, director of the operations committee, "but living continuing memorials will be used for charitable, educational and humanitarian purposes."

The memorial is to be raised in the national campaign by gifts "no matter how small."

In the interest of the memorial to Rogers, who was killed in Alaska with Wiley Post when their plane crashed, Lieut. Commander Frank Hawks is making a 16,000 mile flight to every corner of the United States. The flight will end Nov. 26 the day before the campaign closes.

BODY OF VICTIM OF POLO TRAGEDY TO FORMER HOME

Frank Gmehle, 10, Killed by Fall From Motor Truck, Buried Today

(Telegraph Special Service)

Polo, Nov. 4.—The funeral of Frank Gmehle, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gmehle, who was killed when he fell to the brick pavement from a truck here at 2:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon, was held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Knox mortuary in Rock Island, the Gmehles' former home city. Rev. L. R. Minion, pastor of the Polo M. E. church, officiated, assisted by a Rock Island pastor, and Donald Unger, Ray Rowland, and Robert Chinnouth of this city acted as pallbearers with three Rock Island lads.

Skull Fractured
Death, the result of a skull fracture and broken neck, was accidental, a jury impaneled by Coroner Jesse Akins of Forreston found at an inquest.

The Gmehle boy and a companion, Jack Papp, 10, were riding on the back of an open truck when the fatal accident occurred. Seated on the edge of the truck's body, Frank apparently lost his balance and fell to the pavement, the coroner said.

He was rushed to the office of Dr. L. M. Griffin, who pronounced him dead.

The boy was born in Rock Island, and came to Polo with his parents 4 years ago. His father is employed at the Kable Brothers printing plant in Mount Morris.

Besides his parents he leaves two sisters, Shirley and Deloris, both at home.

Ten Million Acres of Corn Land Will be Idle Next Year

Washington, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The AAA may ask farmers to withhold 10,000,000 acres of former corn land from production next year, as compared with 11,500,000 this year.

This figure was reported tentatively agreed upon as corn-hog officials met today to discuss the next corn-hog control program with farmers from 25 states.

Plans to stimulate hog production had already been announced.

If the 10,000,000 acres corn reduction figure is approved after the conferences, it probably would mean that new contract signers would be required to reduce their 1936 corn acre from 15 to 25 per cent below their 1932-33 average.

Court Writ Allows Walkathon to Continue in Galesburg

Galesburg, Ill.—A temporary injunction, granted by Circuit Judge L. E. Murphy, stalemated city officials in their efforts to close a "walkathon" show. An ordinance prohibiting such shows was passed by the aldermen two weeks ago and became effective at midnight Saturday. City Attorney E. D. Hardy ordered Police Chief A. L. Goff to close the show. S. M. Fox, Omaha, its promoter, and 11 participants were taken in custody. The contest was resumed after issuance of the restraining order.

Reynold Hoover, Mount Morris; Glen Bullock, Kewanee, and Charles Roscoe, DuQuoin, were added to the executive committee.

Fourteen Residents of Illinois Lost Lives in Traffic Crashes Over Week-End AP Survey Reveals

Chicago, Nov. 4.—(AP)—With four lives snuffed out in a single crash near Oneida, at least 14 Illinois residents were killed over the week end in automobile crashes, reports showed today.

In the Oneida crash, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Neave, Alex Goetha and Miss Carolyn Carlson, all of Galesburg, died as their car struck a Chicago, Burlington & Quincy passenger train at a crossing. Goetha was employed by the railroad.

The Chicago area, its pavements slippery with rain, saw six persons killed in that many separate crashes.

After 5 Years

Belleville, Ill., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Injuries received when one of his prize-winning bulls attacked him 5 years ago contributed to the death of Julius B. Helms, widely known livestock breeder and chairman of the board of the Sanitary Milk Producers' Association.

Helms died Saturday at the age of 55. He suffered injuries to his chest, face and stomach when charged by the animal, and his health had declined steadily since then.

BOMBER KILLED BY OWN DEVICE IN MILWAUKEE

Innocent Girl Also is Dead as Reign of Terror is Ended

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 4.—(AP)—This city's eight day reign of bomb terror was at an end the police said today with the death of the terrorist in a terrific explosion that wrecked the garage in which he was experimenting.

The dynamite "fiend," Hugh Rutkowski, 21, was blown to bits and Patricia Mlynarek, 9, was killed yesterday. The blast also injured her mother and brother seriously. Ten others were hurt less dangerously.

Chief of Police J. G. Laubenecker described the bomber as "an extreme low type of individual with a warped, criminal mind," motivated by a "craze for vengeance."

Seek Companion
Detectives searched the debris to determine whether Paul Chavaneck, 19, missing companion of Rutkowski, met the same fate.

Rutkowski's police record began June 21, 1931. It ended yesterday with a terrific explosion on the south side that was heard seven miles away. The steel garage in which Rutkowski tinkered was leveled, an automobile was reduced to bits and the roof of the building blown several hundred feet away.

Property damage was estimated at $75,000. The first of the series of blasts which damaged a suburban court house, two bank branches and two police stations, occurred Oct. 26.

The dynamite found in the debris and fuses picked up at the sites of the five other bombings, were identified as part of the loot of 150 sticks stolen Oct. 3 from the Statebrook Park public works project.

SEVERAL DOWN-STATE COUNTIES VOTE TOMORROW

Centralia, Ill., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Political observers will watch closely the results of the elections in several counties of this section tomorrow when a commissioner will be elected in all counties under the commission form of government.

The result of the elections will probably be construed to indicate political trends in the various counties.

Among counties holding elections are: Williamson, Perry, Wabash, Alexander, Pope, Johnson, Hardin, Union, Randolph, Pulaski, Massac and Edwards.

In Williamson county there will be a referendum on changing the form of government from the commissioner system to the township system.

Pope county has no Democratic candidate and Perry county has no Republican candidate but an independent candidate will oppose the Democrat in the latter county.

Alexander county will elect two commissioners instead of one, owing to a vacancy existing on the county board.

Only a few counties in the state now operate under the commission form. The county board under this system is composed of three members one elected each year.

HURRICANE IS SWEEPING INTO FLORIDA COAST

Sudden Change in Bad Storm's Course is Threat to State

BULLETIN.
Jacksonville, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The Coast Guard today ordered the cutter Saranac, crack ship of the southeastern area, to the aid of the Norwegian steamer Sneland which reported she was in danger of galing aground near Fort Lauderdale.

BULLETIN.
Miami, Fla., Nov. 4.—(AP)—The center of the tropical hurricane menacing Florida's east coast passed over Miami at 1:15 P. M., Eastern Standard time, today.

The barometer reading at that hour was 28.73.

The wind had diminished to 14 miles an hour. The highest previous reading had been 72 miles per hour.

There is always a lull as the center of a hurricane passes a given spot.

The high winds, striking the coast first at Fort Lauderdale, unroofed houses, broke windows and sent the water from canals overflowing onto the streets.

A hasty examination at Fort Lauderdale after the blow indicated damage would not be heavy. There were no immediate reports of deaths or injuries.

The wind abated shortly before 2 P. M.

BULLETIN

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Coast Guard divisional headquarters today received a radio message saying the steamer Sneland was unable to maneuver in hurricane winds just off the Florida coast near Fort Lauderdale, and the Master feared the vessel would be driven aground.

The ship reported it was drifting toward the beach.

Coast Guard officers said they did not know what aid could be rendered. The nearest cutter, the Seneca, was 46 miles away. Lieutenant Circle Lowry said the cutter could make little headway in the hurricane.

The Sneland gave its position as 13 miles east northeast of Hillsboro, small settlement just north of Fort Lauderdale.

GOING PLACES.
By Joseph Fort Newton.

"WHAT is the matter with Americans?" asks an English friend who has been visiting among us.

They are bright, charming, friendly, lovable, but the most restless people I have ever encountered.

"Such dynamic vitality I have never met. After a month in your wonderful country I am 'all in', as you say, run ragged, threatened with St. Vitus' dance, and have to go home and lay up for repairs."

"The last straw was a week end spent at a country estate in Jersey, a heavenly place. But we were so busy going places, doing things, always on the jump, and I hardly had time to get my breath."

"We talk a lot in England about the stresses and strains of modern life and try to convince ourselves that we work harder because we make more fuss about it. But Americans seem to revel in it."

"With us such strain is an affliction; with you it is an inspiration. It is hard to understand a people who voluntarily continue a noisy and alleged strenuous day life into an equally noisy and strenuous night life to amuse themselves and to entertain their guests.

"Can Americans no longer amuse themselves? Must they have a crowd to help them do it? Is there not a real danger that the home may become a mere adjunct to the garage, with a bed to sleep in during the early morning hours? It will take a month for me to learn to sleep."

"Fashion is a tyrant which, apparently, must be obeyed; but the human body being what it is we shall have to pay the price of always going of never being still, and the price will be very high."

"The price of always doing something will surely be a restless, neurotic life in which an increasing number of folk do not know what they want and will not be happy until they get it. So it seems to me."

"Anyway, it is too much for my strength and nerves, and I am going back to our slower life in England—but maybe I have got the bug, too."

My English friend is right—we are a restless people, always on the go, just for the sake of going, lacking reserve and repose.

UNCHANGING

By Helen Welshimer
THIS one thing is unchanging:
Oh, constant as the sun,
Devotion that I hold for you
Grows steadier, dear one.

TALL kingdoms topple over.
Strong rulers lose their crowns,
Young men march off to battles
To fight for border towns.

AND women prate of favors,
And places in the mart,
But I am happier than they
Because I rule your heart!

Hoodlums Vent Ven-geance on Halloween

By Olive Roberts Barton
No one expects Halloween to be a game of ping-pong and the grouchy citizen may as well go out to the farm and see Grandma on this night, but the mildest burger has a want to protest when things go too far.

Much has been done about the Fourth of July, so why cannot some bans be put on the carry-ons that usually mark the eve of All-Saints Day?

It is easy enough to divert the young children on this momentous occasion without spoiling their fun. Dress them up and let them go about asking kind friends for nuts and apples to put in their little paper bags. This for early evening fun. Later there is the taffy pull at home. A mother can use her own ingenuity to vary the entertainment. Children are never critical about the "kind" of party as long as they can laugh and cut up a bit.

WE SHOULD TAKE MORE INTEREST IN STATE

Among the things that no fond mother ever told her snub-nosed young son is: "And if you work hard and be a good boy, you may grow up to be a member of the state legislature."

The state government in most of America, in other words, works under a cloud. There still is a certain glory to being governor, perhaps, but the ordinary American would be hard put if he had to name, from memory, as many as three other high state officials, or six members of his legislature.

Yet the state government touches the life of the average citizen quite as closely as does the federal government, with which he is far more familiar. It affects his taxes even more directly.

It has the power to alter the conditions under which he works or does business. With the county governments, it is at his elbow every day of the year.

The point of all this is that a direct and simple road to cheaper and better government is wide open for the people of America, if they will only take the trouble to find it. By bringing state and county governments up to date, by taking an interest in them and insisting on efficient, intelligent administration, they can save themselves untold millions.

Here is an illustration. A committee of business experts headed by Col. C. O. Sherrill, former city manager of Cincinnati, recently made a survey of the Ohio state government to see if it could be run more cheaply. A glance at a few of their recommendations is enlightening.

In the administration of the state sales tax alone, for example, Ohio could save $578,000 a year. It could save $750,000 more by a more intelligent purchasing system in its highway department. It could save another $166,000 by adjusting the warehouse and trucking contracts of its liquor department.

Altogether, simply by running the state government in the way a business organization would be run, the experts figure the state could save $13,000,000 a year. This he it noted, does not call for abandonment of any state activity; nor does it even touch the county government, a political form which is as out of date today as the one-hoss shay.

The moral is obvious. We have abandoned our state governments to the politicians, and then we have gone off and forgotten who the politicians are. As a result, we are paying right through the nose.

If we want lower taxes, we have only to bring our state and county governments up to date, take an intelligent and unsleeping interest in the way they are operated and insist on getting full value for our money.

That issue is quite as pressing as the more talked-about issue of reducing expenditures of the federal government.

UNDERCONSUMPTION

Since the war every business lull, every increase in unemployment, has been attributed to overproduction. It has become popular to diagnose every economic maladjustment as overproduction. Manufacturers, farmers and workers are being told that they are producing too much. In recent years world production of raw materials and foodstuffs has increased more than twice as fast as the population.

There seems to be a surplus of most worldly goods, but in the final analysis it is an inaccuracy to say that the world is producing more than it needs. The fact is that it isn't consuming as much as it should. Consumption should be increased, rather than production diminished.

Today the real economic problem of the United States is to increase the purchasing power of the consumer. Factories and farms are producing more than the people can buy, not more than they can consume. The commonest phrase is, "I would buy if I had the money."—Star-Republican, Blanchester, Ohio.

WAR BY POPULAR VOTE

James A. Van Sandt, national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, declares that we ought to have a constitutional amendment transferring the right to declare war from the Congress to the people as a whole. Under such an amendment, the country could not declare war unless the declaration was approved in a nationwide referendum.

"We demand an iron-bound, fool-proof policy which will give the people of this nation—those who will fill the trenches in event of war—a chance to say whether or not we are ready to go to war," he says.

It is certain that such a proposal will meet with a good deal of opposition; and it is equally certain that its basic idea is perfectly logical. It is the ordinary, plain everyday citizen who does the fighting, pays the taxes and suffers the agonies of sacrifice when war comes. Why not let him have the last word on whether war is to come at all?

Everything the president has tried has been based on force—the NRA telling the business man how to run his business, the AAA telling the farmer how much he may grow, the Guffey coal law interfering in the same way.—Colonel Frank Knox.

Restoration of normal business and normal business profits is far sounder and far preferable to temporary and risky war profits.—Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

I've got an offer to make pictures in Hollywood, but I think movies can be made right here in the east just as good as in California.—Al Woods, New York producer.

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

"Our friend, the witch, is out of sight," said little Doty Timmy. "I really hate to leave her, she's been so very kind."

"Perhaps some more sport could be found, if we returned and stayed around. On second thought, however, let's keep going. She won't mind."

"Of course she won't," said Doty. "Gee, she's just as tired as she can be, and, anyway, she told us that she'd sleep until next year."

"No pumpkin will she carve till then, so why should we go back again? For my part, I am satisfied to sail along up here."

Soon Doty turned and looked ahead, and to the other Timmy said, "We're coming to a great big cloud. I hope 'twill bring no harm."

"Perhaps we'll merely pass right through the cloud. That should be fun to do. It's white, instead of black. I guess there's no cause for alarm."

"We're in it, now," yelled Doty. "Say, I wish that it would blow away. I cannot see a thing, although I stare with all my might."

"Be patient, lad. There's nothing wrong. We won't stay in here very long," said Doty. Then they popped out where the sun was shining bright.

"Oh, look," cried Doty. "I can see some real strange-looking birds. Oh, gee, they're heading toward our pumpkin. Now I wonder what they'll do."

"Why worry," said brave Doty. "They, no doubt, will fly around and play. Don't yell about them. Goldy, when they are not hurting you."

In just about a minute more, the Timmys knew what was in store. The birds began to peck the pumpkin. "Goodness," Doty cried. "I believe they're going to eat the thing that we are in, and that will bring a very sudden and disastrous end to our fine ride."

POETS' CORNER

THE BOY SCOUT.

If I had a dozen boys,
I would grant them all the joys,
But I'd wish them all to be
Learning manhood, true and free.

That I've found they best obtain
Growing to a higher plane,
Were they living every way
Like a Boy Scout every day.

As a Scout the boy is taught
Everything a fellow ought.
Learns to keep his body whole,
Feeds his mind, his heart, his soul.

Learns the many manly traits
Which a good life emanates.
Boyhood brings more joy to change
E'er the man comes into range.

Every day throughout the year,
Scouting brings him lots of cheer;
Keeps him studying with zeal
When the school would not appeal;

Teaching him to strive and aim
Toward an honorable name;
Living life of boyhood o'er,
Manhood knocking at the door.

Here he has to strive to earn
Further fame with orders firm;
Gets his honors, badge and class
By the tests he has to pass.

Scouting teaches him to swim;
Keeps him healthy full of vim;
Teaches him to learn to care,
And with others to be fair.

Trees he knows by bark and leaves;
Knows the web the spider weaves;
Learns the wig-wag and the code
And of "first-aid" he is told.

All the different knots he ties;
Always useful work he plies;
History—the old and new—
He can tell of 'em to you.

He is taught about the flowers;
How they grow in wooded bowers;
Learns about the weeds and herbs;
Maybe, how to use his verbs.

Knows the animals and birds;
Guards his actions and his words;
Keeping in his mind the way—
Do a good turn every day.

He learns better use of time;
Taught the way to keep from crime;
Hours are golden to invest
In the things that are Life's best.

Great it is to hear the whoop
Of a jolly Boy Scout group.
Great would be the happy shout
If your boy would be a Scout.

When my years were spent in youth,
I was taught respect for truth,
But I never had the chance
Of a Boy Scout to advance.

Modern boys are blessed today
Here the best foundation's laid
If they grow the Boy Scout way.
When a better man is made.

Franklin Grove, Ill.

ABUNDANT LIFE.

Fullness of life can only be won
By thinking in terms of work—well done.

It is never bestowed from above
nor below,
Nor the wings of the wind, nor sun
nor snow.

Can give or withhold. It's the seeds we sow.

Indeed it is very much farther away.

If we think with the heedless that life is all play,

Or challenge the State that it should insure

All of our needs and make us secure;

That is a by-way where phantoms allure.

The State cannot build a reliant man:

It takes courage, purpose, blueprints, a plan.

If followed through to the very end
The structure takes form as will and work blend.

Then the incense of triumph begins to ascend.

Upon the dead and withered leaves

Yet in the earth the life of beauty lingers.

And springs with glorious promise to the day.

But for these flowing tears of bitter

What promise do they bring me for the morrow?

What dream of beauty shall their

Milestones of American Genius

Monument to George Washington near the Sub-Treasury Building in New York.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

THE truest shrine to the Father of Our Country, George Washington, is in the hearts of his countrymen. Yet physical shrines to his memory and tributes to his great genius fill the world. There is no town or hamlet in the Republic which Washington founded that does not boast a memorial in marble or granite; a street, a square, or a building dedicated to our first President.

The two monuments most often visited in a spirit of veneration not only by Americans but by visitors from all nations are the skyscraper shaft that rises in our national capital and the statue shown in the sketch above, which stands in front of the Sub-Treasury Building in the Wall Street section of New York.

Washington was born in Virginia, about fifty miles from the Mt. Vernon estate which was infinitely dear to him. His gift for mathematics led him into surveying work, but the war between France and England found him in the military service of Virginia.

Soon thereafter he took up his life as a farmer, cultivating the broad acres of Mt. Vernon, but always alert to the growing discontent of the colonies and active in the councils of their leaders.

In 1775, when war with England seemed unavoidable, the Continental Congress elected him Commander-in-Chief of the American armed forces. His services and his military genius are among the chief glories of our history.

When independence had been won he resigned his commission, hoping to devote his life to his personal affairs. The young nation, however, had need for his leadership and in 1787 made him president of the Constitutional Convention. Two years later, despite personal reluctance, he became the first President of the United States.

After two terms in that office he retired to Mt. Vernon, but lived only two years in its enjoyment. He was buried at Mt. Vernon, where his home, his grave, his many memorials have become sacred shrines for succeeding generations.

The running of Ethiopian soldiers, who are shown racing across an open space toward cover on the Ogaden front, would do credit to a college track team. H. V. Dress, Dixon Telegraph-NEA Service Staff Cameraman, says in reference to the picture. Note how they carry their rifles, instantly ready.

The Ethiopian army concentrating in the vicinity of Makale is the most difficult of access in the far-flung war zone. Here is the first picture received in America from that remote area. It shows troops building a hut to house army headquarters.

H. V. Dress, Dixon Telegraph-NEA Service Staff Cameraman, was moving along the Ogaden front with a detachment of Ras Nassibu's army when the warning roar of an oncoming Italian war plane sent the troops scurrying to the nearby road embankment in search of cover.

When Will Rogers Wept

By Rupert Hughes (Famous Author)

It was my good luck to hear Will Rogers make some of his most uproariously funny speeches. As a toastmaster I called on him several times and more than once in such circumstances that there was no change for preparation and his remarks could only have been extemporized. They never failed to be side-splitting.

But the occasion that haunts me unforgettably was a luncheon at which Will Rogers was present, along with five or six publishers of Los Angeles newspapers, at the Milton H. Berry Institute where victims of infantile paralysis, broken backs, and other disasters are "reeducated" and so trained that they can rise from their beds or wheel chairs and walk.

Few sights are so touching as the joy these victims take in the slow and often meagre return of lost powers. The beholder does not know whether to laugh or cry. His heart aches with sympathy and with delight in equal measure. On this occasion, when we moved among those whom Milton Berry refuses to call "patients" and insists on calling "students," we all tried to seem cheerful and give forth cheer. But we were a melancholy lot. Will Rogers, however, had some uproarious remark for each of them whether a child, a stalwart youth, a pretty girl, an elderly man or woman. They hung on his words, smiling before he spoke and breaking into roars of laughter at his words. And he laughed with them.

It was wonderful to see anyone bringing such priceless laughter to the victims of cruel misfortunes, but I could not help wondering how anybody could be so boisterously gay with such people, and show never a sign of being touched by their sufferings.

Later I learned that after he had kept them all roaring and writhing with laughter for a long time, he asked Milton Berry where the washroom was and slipped away. Milton Berry opened the door to hand him a towel and found Will leaning against the wall, his head against his arm. He was sobbing like a child.

Milton Berry closed the door softly unnoticed, and when Will came out he went back to tell the "students" goodbye. He was laughing as hilariously as before and he left them in stitches.

Berry never told Will that he had looked in upon him weeping. It would doubtless have covered Will with chagrin to have been caught in such a surrender to his deep emotions. A few months later he was on his way to his poetic death.

I had known that he was always doing good deeds in secret but only by accident was it shown that he regarded the provoking of laughter as a sacred mission. Even when his heart was breaking with pity he kept his sorrow to himself.

Too many people hide cold hearts behind long faces and solemn phrases. Will Rogers was a glorious clown who forbade his tears to flow and let his heart bleed inside him lest the knowledge of his grief should mar the perfect art, the priceless medicine, and relief of laughter unrestrained. There is a saintliness, a majesty in such a comedian and no memorial can be too magnificent for Will Rogers who scattered laughter like a rain-god blessing a thirsty sultry world.

Millions now have an opportunity to contribute to the memory of Will Rogers. Famous friends have organized The Will Rogers Memorial Commission. It is hoped every one of those whom Milton Berry refuses to call "patients" and insists on calling "students," we all tried to seem cheerful and give forth cheer. But we were a melancholy lot. Will Rogers, however, had some uproarious remark for each of them whether a child, a stalwart youth, a pretty girl, an elderly man or woman. ## ITALY DEMANDS GIBRALTAR BE MADE NEUTRAL Paris, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Naval circles have confirmed the report that Italy will demand neutralization of the Straits of Gibraltar at the London naval conference, Dec. 2.

The action, which was seen as "a master-stroke" by Mussolini to force Britain to declare "her intentions" in the Mediterranean is expected by naval experts to "throw a bombshell into the conference."

Although it was accepted as a "foregone conclusion" in diplomatic circles that Britain will be forced to refuse such a demand, it was said it will nevertheless be "extremely embarrassing for London" for the Italians, in making the demand, will surely point to the recent specific declarations of Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin's government as proof that Britain no longer needs a fortified rock to control the Mediterranean.

Britain's frequent declaration of her faithfulness to the principle of collective security will also put her in a difficult position in refusing the request, it was said.

It is expected that Mussolini will offer to scrap two 35,000-ton battleships, placed in construction last year, to "show his good faith" in making the demand.

RELIEF FUNDS FOR ILLINOIS COUNTIES CUT

Chicago, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Unable to convince Federal officials that additional relief funds were necessary, the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission notified county chairmen Saturday that allocations from Federal funds for the first half of November would be slashed 20 per cent.

Wilfred S. Reynolds, executive secretary, said he had not abandoned hope of securing additional funds, but the order to the counties was sent out over his signature.

Illinois' relief needs, so far as Federal funds were concerned, were set at $8,459,000 for November by the commission. The Federal allotment for the first half of the month was $3,025,000.

Reynolds said Washington officials evidently were certain that the Illinois works progress administration would assume the care of 123,500 employables now carried on the state relief rolls, cutting the allotment for direct relief to conform. "So far as I am concerned," Reynolds said, "WPA is an unknown quantity. If it takes the 183,500, or a large per centage thereof, by Nov. 25 the problem will be solved. If it doesn't—then we have the problem on our hands."

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 2.—(AP)—State Treasurer John Stille today made no comment on the outlook for placing all employable jobless on works progress payrolls, but said an understanding of the state's position probably will be reached at next Friday's meeting of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission.

Definite information on the relief situation in Illinois probably will be available then, he said. Robert J. Dunham, state WPA administrator, is returning from Washington.

Dr. Steel on account of his recent appointment in postal service at the office here receives any mention of the New York election with a clod thrown. # WHAT THE MILDNESS OF CAMELS MEANS TO FAMOUS AVIATORS

Lieutenant Commander Frank Hawks, U.S.N.R., famous holder of 214 speed records and the Harmon Trophy, says: "I've been flying for 19 years and smoking Camels almost as long. Making speed records tests the pilot as well as his plane. Camels never make me jumpy or bother my physical 'condition' in any way. As the athletes say, Camels are so mild they don't get the wind. And I've found they never upset my nerves. Camel must use choicer tobaccos."

"Speaking of cigarettes, I make it a rule to smoke Camels," says Mrs. T. W. Kenyon, sportswoman pilot. "They are the mildest cigarette I know. Morning, noon, and night, I can smoke Camels steadily. They never upset my nerves. And each Camel renews the zest and enjoyment of the last one!"

"They Never Get on Your Nerves"

CONTINUATION "UPWARD TREND" IN FARM INCOME

That's Prediction of U. S. Dept. of Agriculture to Farmers

Washington, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The Agriculture Department predicted today that the present "upward trend" in farm income will continue in 1936.

"The demand for farm products in 1936," the department said in its annual outlook report, "is likely to be greater than in 1935. Consumer buying power in the United States is likely to be increased in 1936; buying power of consumers in many foreign countries also is likely to increase."

The report was prepared by the bureau of agricultural economics after a week of conferences by field representatives from all parts of the country. It discussed prospects for more than 50 farm products.

Consumer buying power is increasing, the report declared, because of "improved industrial activity." Though the report said there is expected to be some improvement in foreign demand for American crops, it also asserted that there are still severe import restrictions in foreign countries.

Warning Issued.
The report warned farmers against large production increases, saying they "would tend to check the advance in prices that might otherwise be expected."

A surplus of wheat, with a supply available for export, was forecast for 1936.

The report supported earlier predictions by agriculture officials that increased world consumption of American cotton is in prospect, because of somewhat lower prices for cotton relative to a year ago and relative to foreign growths, and because of prospects for increased business activity.

Coming within a few days of the AAA's first movement toward enforcement of the compulsory rotation to control act for 1936, the report predicted the law would result in a smaller reduction in production than would have occurred normally.

Potato Regulations.
Some reduction may be expected, the report said, and improvement in prices to producers is anticipated, but because of the law, "this reduction is expected to be materially less than would normally occur without the program, as a result of the low prices this year."

Livestock industries, the report said, are in the best conditions in several years to benefit from increased consumer demand. Production of meat animals was said to have passed the low point, and an increase is expected, particularly in hogs.

However the department said the total market supply of meat in 1936 was expected to be "little if any, greater than this year," since some time is required for the more abundant feed supply and increased livestock production to result in larger market supplies of meat.

Dairy Industry.
An improved outlook for the dairy industry was seen, with milk production expected to increase because of abundant feed supplies. Increases in consumer buying also were expected to help the demand for milk.

Relatively short supplies and high prices of poultry during the remainder of 1935 and the first half of 1936 were predicted and fruit production was expected to expand. Production of fresh vegetables was declared likely to increase, but the department indicated there would be a reduction in the output of truck crops for canning.

It said the cash income for farmers probably would be higher this year than in any year since 1929, with largest gains in the north central states.

About 60 farmers of the community met at the Community hall on Monday evening, Oct. 21 to discuss and vote on the 1936 corn-hog program. Leon Garrison of Dixon and Farm Advisor C. E. Meetings are being held each evening throughout the county in the hopes to give all interested a chance to attend. After a review of the present situation.

The harvesting and threshing of soy beans in this community has progressed steadily during the fine weather of the past few days. Yields in some cases have been disappointing although most farmers are quite satisfied with what they received. The yields in most cases have been from 20 to 30 bushels per acre. The production of soy beans this year over the whole country will break all records yet the price is good; better than most farmers had expected and indications are that good prices will prevail for some time to come, largely because of the variety of uses soy beans are put to. For instance, they are used in the making of paint, varnish, vegetable shortenings, soap, glue, casein, flour, etc. This is only a partial list but what farm product has a larger one.

Many farmers in this community have been harvesting new crops this year, crops they never had produced before. For example, lespedeza, sudan grass, flax, sorghum, buckwheat have been raised in a limited way as an experiment. With the reduction of the corn acreage through government control farmers are venturing into new crops some never produced here before. Walter Peterman returned to his home at Arlington la., Monday.

ITALIAN BOMBS KILL 30 WOMEN AND 15 CHILDREN

Involving Airmen Drop Bombs as Women Water Their Cattle

(Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press.)

Addis Ababa, Nov. 4.—The Ethiopian government announced today 30 women, 15 children and 100 cows were killed during an attack by Italian airplanes Saturday on Gorraheh.

The casualties were said to have occurred while the cattle were being watered at a spring.

Gorraheh is the site of a military post and important springs, but as all men were at the front, the official communique said, bombs dropped by the attacking aerial squadron fell on the women, children and cows.

The air raid was described as the most serious yet suffered by the Ethiopians, involving greater casualties than previous assaults on Adduwa, and other cities.

Emperor Affected

Emperor Haile Selassie was affected deeply upon being informed of the deaths of the women and children.

Government officials said they still lacked any first hand knowledge of a new Italian offensive on the northern front.

The emperor entered the sixth day of his reign today, supremely confident of victory over the Italian invaders.

"Thus far the Italians have shown traditional bravery," the King of Kings told the Associated Press correspondent after celebrating yesterday the fifth anniversary of his coronation.

"Although the Italians have been attacking a month, our army is still quite intact. Their armament, rifles, swords and spears remain unbroken and their hearts undaunted that their deathless devotion shall triumph before the God of justice."

Nation Makes Strides

The emperor said that Ethiopia had made great strides in economic, social, educational and sanitary reforms since he was crowned in 1930, but that this movement was now abandoned, the government spending all available money for defense.

When peace comes, Haile Selassie asserted, his empire envisages an even brighter material outlook which he believes will be stimulated greatly by fulfillment of an oil concession to American interests.

Speaking with great emphasis, the emperor declared it was Ethiopia's absolute right to award such an enterprise to any nation it might choose.

SON OF CHICAGO PASTOR KILLED BY WIFE SUNDAY

Parents of Victim Express Sympathy for Son's Murderer

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Daisy Alexander Root, pretty 30-year-old blonde, today faced a charge of murder for the slaying of her husband, Brenton Root, over the affections of a red-haired cigarette girl.

Root, 32, contract investigator for a Memphis wholesale concern and son of a Chicago minister, was shot to death at his home early Sunday after a party with his wife and friends at the hotel where the girl, Miss Lucille Underwood 21, was unemployed.

Miss Underwood told officers she once went with Root for three months, but evaded him after she learned he was married. She denied she caused the estrangement of the couple.

"I didn't love him," she said.

Parents Sympathize
Parents of the slain man, the Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin Franklin Root, were sympathetic with the wife in their grief.

"We will do all we can to make her burden easier," the mother-in-law of the prisoner said. "She hardly realized what she was doing. We don't feel harshly toward her."

Mr. Root, rector of St. Simon's Protestant Episcopal church in Chicago, wept and said, "I suppose this woman must be tried?"

The wife was quoted by officers as saying she and her husband, from whom she separated about six weeks ago, went to the hotel with three other couples and they saw Miss Underwood. She said she resented her husband's attentions to the girl and left, asking another couple to take her home.

Patrolmen Bert Hatch and H. B. Martin quoted her as saying she got out the pistol which "Brenton had taught me to shoot," went to his home and "killed him."

PENSION COSTS WILL BE FIFTH OF SALES TAXES

First Year of Proposed "Assistance" Will Be $11,855,524

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Pensions for the Illinois old age and dependent children probably will cost twenty per cent of the annual revenue from the three per cent sales tax, but sponsors gave no indication today that they intend to push an increased appropriation in the present special session of the assembly.

On the basis of a report by Frank Bane, executive director of the Federal social security program, administration of the pending bills would cost $11,855,524 the first full year of the two pensions, and an estimated $13,634,324 a year thereafter.

No appropriation bill has been introduced thus far in the emergency session, however, and administration leaders have not indicated they will attempt to do so. There were several who said it could not be done legally because the subject was not mentioned in the call for the session.

5 Millions Last Month

The largest single month's collections thus far from the three per cent sales tax was announced last week as slightly more than $5,000,000 in September. Since no other month has reached that total $5,000,000 was considered a fair estimate of a year's revenue from the levy, or five times the estimated expense of the first year's pensions.

An appropriation of $11,000,000 would be larger than all state expenses except the funds spent for relief and education. A third of the revenue goes to relief purposes, and the appropriation of the last legislature for schools amounted to 27 per cent of the state's anticipated revenue for the current biennium.

Bane's estimates of the first year's costs are more than four times the present appropriations for old age pensions and care for dependent children. The 59th Assembly authorized an expenditure of $5,000,000 for the biennium for old age as compared to Bane's yearly estimate of $8,855,500, and an appropriation of $250,000 for the year for children against the estimated $2,000,024 a year needed under the proposed program.

Will Boost Rates

The second year expenses which it was believed would be approximately the same as the costs each year thereafter were estimated at $13,634,324; $10,634,300 for old age and $2,000,024 for dependent children. The present annual appropriation for those two expenses is only 20.1 per cent of the estimated second year costs and the biennium appropriation of five and a half million dollars only 21.65 of Bane's estimates for the first two years.

The proposed increases would boost the per capita cost of old age pensions in Illinois from the present 32.5 cents a year to $1.16 the first year and $1.39 per annum thereafter. The present per capita cost for dependent children care is 3.25 cents a year and the estimated per capita expense is 39.3 cents.

KENTUCKY SPLIT WORRIES DEMOCRATIC LEADERS

Wounds Inflicted During Current Campaign May Now Heal

Washington, Nov. 4.—(AP)—With national Democratic leaders showing concern over the intra-party quarreling that marks the Kentucky gubernatorial race, voters in six states will make their choices tomorrow in election that will receive the closest scrutiny for possible 1936 indicators.

Two congressional contests in New York City also will be watched with interest, as well as the intense scrap for the Philadelphia mayoralty and the struggle over control of the assembly of President Roosevelt's home state of New York.

Heavy registrations for off-year balloting were recorded in New York and Pennsylvania, which next year may hold the key to the White House.

No matter who wins the governorship fight in Kentucky between Lieut. Gov. A. B. Chandler, Democrat, and Judge King Swope, Republican, Democratic leaders fear party wounds will result that may prove difficult to heal by the time that border state cast its presidential vote next November.

Supports Republican

Democratic Governor Ruby Laffoon is supporting Swope, contending Chandler "betrayed" the Laffoon administration. Laffoon, of Kentucky colonel fame, said he would vote for the rest of the Democratic ticket—the state also will elect state officers and members of the legislature—but Republicans hope to ride through the factional breach to victory.

Democrats expect to win the two contests to fill vacancies in the New York congressional delegation, but students of politics will watch to see how the tally of votes compares with previous Democratic pluralities in the two districts.

In the second district, which covers a portion of Queens county, contestants will fight it out for the seat vacated by Representative William F. Brunner, Democrat, who resigned to make the race for county sheriff. The Democratic plurality in that district was 92,214 in 1934 as against 103,987 in 1932.

Pluralities Reduced

The other New York City congressional contest is for the seat of the late Representative Anthony J. Griffin, which has been vacant since last January. Griffin's plurality in 1934 was 19,373 compared with almost 30,000 two years earlier.

A total of 150 seats is at stake in the assembly balloting. The Democrats now control the assembly by a margin of four votes.

The Philadelphia mayoralty joust is between John B. Kelly, who is trying to be the city's first Democratic mayor in over 40 years, and S. Davis Wilson, City Comptroller, a Republican. Of the more than 800,000 registered over 500,000 are enrolled as Republicans, with Democrats slightly under 300,000.

Cleveland also will elect a mayor. New Jersey, Virginia and Mississippi will choose new legislatures and the latter also will select a governor and state officers.

LARRY made some remark to reassure him, and then said

"I'm not absolutely certain," he said at last, "it looks somewhat like him. I didn't get a very good look at him, though—no close up. You see, we were all herded up against the wall, and—"

"I see," said Larry. "How about the other one?"

Mr. Dunn looked at a picture of a perky, black-haired little man with rat-like eyes. Without hesitation he nodded decisively.

"That's the man who held the gun on us while the other one got the cash," he said. He handed the pictures back. Larry pocketed them.

"Who knew about this tear gas installation?" he asked suddenly. Mr. Dunn looked up in some surprise.

"Why, I suppose almost everyone in town knew it," he said. "You know how it is, in a place like this. We saw no special reason for keeping it a secret, anyway."

Larry stood up.

"It's too bad you didn't," he said. "Mr. Hobart might have been saved a very unpleasant experience. You see, this thing of a shot before a word was said—that isn't like the Jackson gang, or any other gang. It's pretty obvious that they knew about the tear gas, and simply shot first in order to prevent Mr. Hobart from using it."

Mr. Dunn looked grave, and shook his head slowly.

"Poor Hobart!" he said. "That's my fault, I suppose, too. I'm glad he didn't have to pay a higher price for it."

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JEAN DUNN, secretary to DONALD MONTAGUE, lawyer, delays her answer when BOBBY WILKINS, automobile salesman, asks her to marry him.

At the Golden Feather night club, she meets SANDY HARRIS, whose business connection is vague. Sandy introduces Bobby and Jean to a MR. and MRS. LEWIS, who sells some bonds for Lewis, who buys a car.

LARRY GLENN, federal agent, is trailing WINGY LEWIS, bank robber. He learns about the bond transaction and questions Bobby. The bonds were stolen. Larry believes the car Lewis bought is armored. Bobby underakes to find out.

Now go on with the story CHAPTER XXIX

It was dusk by the time Larry Glenn and the other two federal men reached Maplehurst. They drove at once to the bank, where Mr. Dunn was waiting for them.

Larry shook hands, introduced his men, and went to work at once. In a few minutes he had every scrap of information about the robbery that Mr. Dunn could give him. He took an envelope from his pocket and drew out a few postcard-size photographs. He selected two and handed them to Mr. Dunn.

"Recognize either of them?" he asked.

Mr. Dunn looked down at a surly face in the conventional profile and sideway shots of a penitentiary rogues' gallery photograph. He gave a start of surprise as he looked at the black type beneath it—Red Jackson—and studied the picture with care.

"I'm not absolutely certain," he said at last, "it looks somewhat like him. I didn't get a very good look at him, though—no close up. You see, we were all herded up against the wall, and—"

"I see," said Larry. "How about the other one?"

Mr. Dunn looked at a picture of a perky, black-haired little man with rat-like eyes. Without hesitation he nodded decisively.

"That's the man who held the gun on us while the other one got the cash," he said. He handed the pictures back. Larry pocketed them.

"Who knew about this tear gas installation?" he asked suddenly. Mr. Dunn looked up in some surprise.

"Why, I suppose almost everyone in town knew it," he said. "You know how it is, in a place like this. We saw no special reason for keeping it a secret, anyway."

Larry stood up.

"It's too bad you didn't," he said. "Mr. Hobart might have been saved a very unpleasant experience. You see, this thing of a shot before a word was said—that isn't like the Jackson gang, or any other gang. It's pretty obvious that they knew about the tear gas, and simply shot first in order to prevent Mr. Hobart from using it."

Mr. Dunn looked grave, and shook his head slowly.

"Poor Hobart!" he said. "That's my fault, I suppose, too. I'm glad he didn't have to pay a higher price for it."

LARRY made some remark to reassure him, and then said

MINNESOTA AT IOWA IN HEAD BIG TEN TILT

Ohio State Comes To Chicago U. a Favorite

Chicago, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Ohio State's chastened Buckeyes, Minnesota and Michigan resume their drives for Big Ten gridiron honors Saturday, while the Notre Dame menace strikes into the conference for the third and last time of the season, against Northwestern.

The "Scarlet Scourge" which lost some of its color during the almost unbelievable final period Saturday when Notre Dame scored three touchdowns for an 18 to 13 triumph, comes back to the conference wars against Chicago at Stagg field. Minnesota meets Iowa in the top game of the day at Iowa City, and Michigan tackles its ancient foe, Illinois, at Champaign. Indiana plays at Maryland.

Iowa Tied.

Iowa, held to a 6 to 6 draw by Indiana Saturday in the rain at Iowa City, is not completely out of the title running. The Hawkeyes' chances, however, depend upon whipping Minnesota—something they don't figure to do—while someone else belts Ohio State over.

As the race hits the stretch bend, Michigan, unexpectedly enough, appears to be the prime threat to the hopes of both Minnesota and Ohio State. Since losing their opening game to Michigan State's strong eleven by a lopsided score, the Wolverines have come along to win four straight games. Showing continued improvement, they could cause the Gophers and Buckeyes a lot of trouble.

Minnesota meets Michigan at Ann Arbor a week from Saturday. Ohio State tackles the Wolverines in the final game of the season the week following, also at Ann Arbor.

Minnesota, which showed signs of unsteadiness in victories over North Dakota State, Nebraska, Tulsa and Northwestern, gave a truly convincing demonstration of power and speed in crushing out Purple's title chances Saturday 29 to 7. With Clarence (Tuffy) Thompson serving as the head man in the attack, the Gophers gave Purdue few opportunities to carry the ball, and themselves scored in every period.

Oze Made One Dash.
Oze Simmons, Iowa's slippery Negro back, was good for one of his spectacular dashes, a 59-yard touchdown gallop, but between Indiana's sturdy defense and a gunmy field, he couldn't get away again. Simmons' run came only after the Hoosiers had climaxed the only sustained march of the game with a touchdown by Corbett Davis.

Northwestern bounced out of last place for the first time of the year by whipping Illinois, 10 to 3. Lowell Spurgeon's field goal, the first one of the conference season, gave the Illini a lead which lasted until the final period. Chuck Duval tied it up with the second field goal of the campaign, and Don Heap clinched victory for the Wildcats with a 42-yard touchdown run.

Michigan followed up its 19 to 7 victory over Columbia the week before, by taking a 16 to 6 fall out of Pennsylvania's highly regarded eleven at Ann Arbor. The Wolverines used several regulars sparingly, in anticipation of Saturday's battle at Illinois, but had little trouble with the Quakers.

Where 1935 Grid Title May Have Been Decided

All the thrills that football has to offer were dealt the 80,000 frenzied fans who packed Ohio State's stadium at Columbus, as shown in this airview, to watch Notre Dame's Fighting Irish defeat the Buckeyes, 19-13 in a brilliant last-quarter attack. Ohio State, a seven to five favorite, was leading 13-0 when the Irish unloaded their withering attack.

Princeton Earns 7 to 7 Football Tie In Game With Dixon High Team

Tiger Back Races 85 Yards For a Touchdown

Nickelson is the name. The fleet Princeton high school halfback and his alertness in capitalizing every advantage proved to be just the man the Tigers needed to finally stall Dixon high's football juggernaut and give his team a well-earned 7 to 7 tie. In the preliminary game the Dixon "B" team also found the road extremely rough in subduing the Princeton lightweights 13 to 0, here Saturday.

Nickelson gave Purple and White fans plenty to think about about five minutes after the game opened, and Dixon had penetrated to Princeton's 15 yard line in what appeared to be a successful goalward drive. He intercepted a short pass over center by Ankeny and behind perfect interference which formed for him, outran the whole Dixon team in an 85 yard dash to the goal and a touchdown. Neill, Tiger left halfback converted the extra point on a kick giving the enemy a 7-0 lead.

Dixon Stunned
The locals stunned by this sudden turn of events abandoned caution and turned on the power. Driving up to the Princeton 15 yard line however they were balked by an unexpectedly strong defense and after Neill intercepted a Dixon pass on the one yard line Princeton punted out to midfield. A second Dixon offensive was nullified by a 15 yard penalty. At this point the desperate Purple team unleashed a long aerial from Reback to L. Miller who snared it behind the goal line for a touchdown. The pass was 35 yards long. Don Miller tied the score by kicking goal and the score stood 7 to 7 where it remained the balance of the game.

The second quarter continued full of fireworks with fumbles and interceptions providing constant thrills for the spectators. Again a smashing Dixon attack consisting of wide end sweeps and line bucks was frustrated by the scrappy Tigers on their own 28 yard line. Princeton launched a counter-offensive that carried the Tigers 30 yards. Nickelson's end run of 20 yards behind beautiful interference providing the impetus. Schumm blasted this attack however by intercepting a pass on Dixon's 30 yard line.

The Lindellmen remained in a defensive position at the opening of the third frame but soon started another march which did not become dangerous. The locals were forced to be content with holding the ball and pounding futilely at the unyielding Tiger line.

Tigers Threaten

In the fourth stanza Princeton threatened to hand the Purple men their second defeat of the season. Excellent punting by big Bouxsein kept the locals back, and after Princeton smeared Don Miller, on its own 25 yard stripe the Tigers clawed down the field to Dixon's 31 yard line. Nickelson circled the ends for long gains and a pass, Bouxsein to Campbell placed the Tigers in scoring position. On the next play however Don Miller intercepted a pass and ran it back 20 yards. The locals failed to get anywhere however when another 15 yard penalty spoiled their last threat.

Statistics revealed that although Dixon piled up 13 first downs to Princeton's four, the locals were almost totally ineffective in the air except for their only completed pass that netted the touchdown. Eight other chances were either muffed or intercepted by Princeton's alert defense. The Tigers also completed only one pass out of five tries. The extremely poor blocking of the Lindellmen was another factor responsible for Dixon's lack of offensive punch necessary for victory. The hard-charging Tiger forwards sifted through the Purple line several times to throw the local backs for big losses. Princeton proved invulnerable on the defense in their own territory and were aided by numerous penalties against Dixon.

LIGHTS TAKE 13-0 WIN

Coach Eric Strom's Princeton lightweights proved anything but cannon fodder for the Dixon lightweights in the opener. The locals were pressed to the limit in squeezing out a 13 to 0 triumph.

No particular offensive ability was shown by the Sharpe crew in spite of their victory. Dixon made only three first downs compared with Princeton's two, and completed two out of five passes. Princeton tried only one pass which was incomplete.

Tigers Confuse Locals

After McMillon returned the opening kickoff 20 yards, Dixon moved slowly down to the 40 yard line where Princeton intercepted a pass. A few moments later the locals blocked a punt on Princeton's 20 yard line from which they retrieved the ball and plunged in a series of line plays for a touchdown which Bassetti counted. On the whole Dixon's blocking was poor and after this initial advantage the two teams struggled fruitlessly in Princeton's territory. Dixon showing no special ability in offering further threats and the Tigers were equally lacking in gridiron finesse.

In the third period after another punting duel, Ellis knifed through center for 10 yards only to see his advantage wiped out on the next play when McMillon was thrown for a ten yard loss. In the fourth period a pass, Ellis to Stultz, scored the locals' final touchdown, from the 28 yard line.

In both games, Princeton proved that its debut into the N. C. I. league next fall must be taken very seriously by all the conference teams. The Tigers in demonstrating equal ability with one of this campaign's strongest, N. C. I. league teams, convinced everybody they will be able to offer competition to one and all conference members, next year.

NATIONAL PICTURE

New York, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Ray Zeh, Western Reserve fullback, continued to lead the national parade of high scorers today, but a new face burst into the picture to threaten his position.

Zeh scored 16 points against John Carroll Friday night to raise his total to 88 points, but Eddie Stanley of Williams scored four touchdowns against Union to push himself into second place with 72 points.

Rodgers of Mississippi, Williams of Ohio State and Wilson of Southern Methodist moved into a tie for third place with Davis of Kentucky, who failed to score this week and remained at 54 points.

Southwest.

Texas Christian's 28-0 rout of Baylor left the Horned Frogs in top position with Southern Methodist, 20-0 conqueror of Texas, and only other undefeated contender.

Southeastern conference: Louisiana State's last minute 6-0 conquest of Auburn left the Tigers tied with Mississippi for first place with two conference victories and no defeats. ## RACE NARROWS FOR NATIONAL GRID HONORS

Unbeaten Elevens are Scarcer After Last Week's Tilts

BY HERBERT W. BARKER

Associated Press Sports Writer.
New York Nov. 4.—(AP)—A week-end of intensive firing, featured by the collapse of Ohio State's Buckeyes, brought some semblance of order out of the maddest football whirl in history.

Eleven major teams still boast perfect records, marred neither by defeat nor tie. Geographically, they are distributed as follows: East—Princeton, Dartmouth, New York University and Syracuse.

Middle West—Minnesota, Notre Dame and Marquette.
South—North Carolina.
Southwest—Southern Methodist and Texas Christian.
Far West—California.

This week may narrow the mythical national title chase still further, especially as it affects Minnesota, Syracuse and Marquette. By sections, advance prospects for the next big "push" include:

East.

Syracuse, lucky to beat Penn State 7-3 with a last minute touchdown pass, seems most likely of the East's undefeated outfits to meet with a setback. The Orange invades New York to tackle Columbia's Lions, still regarded as dangerous despite last week's 7-7 tie with Cornell. Princeton, more powerful than ever in a 26-0 conquest of Navy should dispose of Harvard handily although the Crimson uncorked some previously unsuspected scoring power in routing Brown, 33-0.

Dartmouth, still celebrating its first victory over Yale in 51 years—a hard-earned 14-6 triumph in the Yale Bowl—eases off with an intercollegiate game with William and Mary. New York University, victorious over Bucknell, 14-0, should romp over City College of New York. Holy Cross, unbeaten but tied by Manhattan, plays Carnegie Tech's Tartans, who were upset by Duquesne 7-0.

Army, whose perfect record vanished in the face of Mississippi State's brilliant play, 13-7, invades Pittsburgh to tackle the Panthers, disappointing in a scoreless draw with Fordham's Rams. Fordham remains at home to await the charge of St. Mary's Gaels from California. Penn, trounced by Michigan, 16-6, takes on Navy next, while Penn State is matched with Villanova whose Wild Cats squared accounts with Detroit Saturday, 13-7. Yale and Brown are matched in the only other "big time" game.

Middle West.

Victorious over Ohio State, 18-13 with a three touchdown spurge in a final quarter drive engineered by Andy Piney, Notre Dame's Ramblers meet Northwestern next. They should win, but the Wildcats, victors over Illinois, 10-3, may make it interesting. Minnesota, which took Purdue over the hurdles, 29-7, to run its undefeated streak to 21 games in a row, meets a vital conference test in a tussle with Iowa's Hawkeyes, surprisingly tied by Indiana, 6-6.

Two powerful "independents," undefeated Marquette and Michigan State, collide at East Lansing. Michigan State ruined Temple's perfect record last week, 12-6.

Kansas, marking up its second Big Six conference victory at Oklahoma's expense, 7-0, is the undisputed leader but finds Nebraska blocking its path this week. Nebraska, in second place, handed Missouri its first defeat Saturday, 20-6.

Southwest.

Texas Christian's 28-0 rout of Baylor left the Horned Frogs in top position with Southern Methodist, 20-0 conqueror of Texas, and only other undefeated contender.

South.

Southeastern conference: Louisiana State's last minute 6-0 conquest of Auburn left the Tigers tied with Mississippi for first place with two conference victories and no defeats. Alabama's third conference triumph in four starts was achieved at Kentucky's expense, 13-0, and left the Crimson Tide still in a strong position.

Far West.

Pacific Coast conference: California's 14-2 conquest of U. C. L. A. left the Golden Bears the only undefeated team in the conference. They will need to hurdle another big obstacle this week in

A Notre Dame Foray That Miscarried

Thrill-packed from the opening kickoff, Ohio State's defeat, 18-13, by an infuriated Notre Dame eleven that had trailed into the last quarter, went a long way toward deciding 1935's gridiron champions. Here Francis Layden, Notre Dame right half, is seen in the lower right hand corner, heaving the pass that was turned into Ohio's first touchdown in the opening quarter. Frank Antenucci, Buckeye fullback, intercepted the pass, flipped a lateral to right half Frank Boucher, who ran 65 yards for the touchdown.

Here and There In Sports World

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

Associated Press Sports Writer.

New York Nov. 4.—(AP)—All right, Mr. Layden, step right up to the head of the class and take a few bows for yourself. . . . Nice going out there, Saturday. . . . What a wild football day all around. . . . The fans still are dizzy. . . . Also about a dozen coaches. . . . What will happen next? . . . Are you asking us?

On the honor roll are: Prof. Gil Dobie of Cornell who cried his way into a tie with Columbia. . . . Maj. Ralph Sasse of Mississippi State, who took our Army for a ride. . . . Mr. Jimmy Crowley of Fordham, who all but skinned the Pitt Panther. . . . Charlie Bachman of Michigan State, who gave Temple its first reverse. . . . And Harry Kipke, whose Michigan team beat Penn, which Fritz Crisler still insists is the best he's seen in the east.

With Princeton and the Big Ten teams ineligible, Notre Dame and North Carolina stand out as the hottest Rose Bowl prospects. . . . Unless Army or Duke spill them. How that Princeton team ever loses a game is a mystery to us, as Ring Lardner's Jack Keefe used to say. . . . You ought to see that bunch of Freshmen at Cornell. . . . If Gil Dobie sheds any tears next year it will be the kind Connie Mack used when he sold Lefty Grove to Boston.

Mike Jacobs, who spend most of his time in planes these days, soon will have as many hours in the air as Lindy. . . . A Virginia sports writer who has covered five games this season has yet to see a touchdown scored. . . . The strange thing about that Carnera-Neusel affair was that Primo actually looked good in spots.

The shape of Washington, Stanford which turned back Santa Clara on Jim Moscrip's fourth-quarter field goal, 9-6, plays Southern California.

Rocky Mountain conference: Utah and Colorado University, jointly sharing the lead with three victories in a row, collide at Salt Lake City in the game that may decide the championship. Both hung up convincing victories last week, the Utes trouncing Brigham Young, 32-0, while Colorado was whipping Colorado College, 23-0.

Western Pro Grid Teams in Big Edge Over Easterners

Chicago, Nov. 4.—(AP)—It becomes more and more apparent, as the National Professional Football league season wears on, that most of the strength lies in the western division of the circuit.

Every team in the western section, led by the Green Bay Packers, today topped the leaders of the eastern division, the 1934 champion New York Giants, in the general standing. The Packers found themselves in first place without even playing yesterday, the Detroit Lions having hauled the Chicago Cardinals down by a 7 to 6 decision. The Cards did a big slide, dropping to fourth position in the division, while the Chicago Bears moved up to a tie with Detroit for second place by whipping New York, 20 to 3, at New York.

In 12 games against eastern opposition, western teams have won ten. Philadelphia defeated Boston's Redskins yesterday, 7 to 6. Brooklyn moved into second place in the eastern division by defeating the Pittsburgh Pirates, 13 to 7.

Thirteen companies accounted for 82 per cent of the aircraft produced in the United States during the first six months of 1935.

DOUBLE RULE OF LITTLE 19 LOOP SEEMS POSSIBLE

Several Unbeaten Teams Continue Their Records

Chicago, Nov. 4.—(AP)—With six teams grouped in the front rank of the standings today, the Illinois Intercollegiate conference is apparently headed toward another double entry on the roll of football champions.

Millikin almost assured itself of championship rating last week by conquering Lake Forest, 24 to 0. After three victories in league games, Millikin's path is now barred only by the Bradley eleven which has won but one title conflict and has dropped three.

Knox and Monmouth, with records of two victories and no defeats or ties, may be left to settle the other share of the championship to their own satisfaction. The two elevens will clash Nov. 28 in the game that now looms as the most important on the remaining schedule.

Three Have Ties

Northern Teachers, State Normal and McKendree, undefeated but all charged with ties, may also cut themselves in for a share of the title glory. Normal and McKendree clash this week, however, in a game that should eliminate one from further consideration. Illinois Wesleyan, Eureka and Eastern Teachers remain on the Northern Teachers' schedule.
